Eight Men Eligible For Phi Eta Sigma, Frosh Honor Group

Freshman Men With Indices of 3.5 or More Will Be Pledged Next Monday

Eight men are eligible for membership in Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic honor society, with indices of 3.5 or better, the president announces. They are: Edmund Browning, Hewitt Cochran, Horace Drury, Joseph Goldman, Marcus Goumas, Marshall Mason, Milton Mitchell, and Laing Sibbett.

Goldman Has Perfect Record
Joseph Goldman with 15 hours of A, has a perfect index of 4. Edmund Browning is next with 12 hours of A and 3 of B, an index of 3.8.

Carrying 19 hours, Laing Sibbett made 12 of A and seven of B for an index of 3.6. Hewitt Cochran and Marshall Mason, holders of one year Board of Trustees scholarships, also made indices of 3.6 with nine hours A, six hours B, and 10 hours C, six hours D, respectively. Horace Drury, with nine hours A and six of B and Milton Mitchell with 12 of A and three of C, also have indices of 3.6. Marcus Goumas made seven hours of A and six of B for a 3.5.

Installed Here in 1929
Pledging will be Monday, March 12 at 8:15 p. m. in Lambie house.

Phi Eta Sigma is the national scholastic honor society for freshman men, founded in 1923 by Dean Thomas Arkoe Clark of the University of Illinois for the purpose of encouraging high scholarship among undergraduates. The local chapter was installed in 1929.

Speech Arts Group Plans Greek Debate

Delta Sigma Rho Again Offers Cups for Sorority, Fraternity Tournament

Interfraternity and intersorority debate is sponsored for the fourth successive year by Delta Sigma Rho, honorary speech arts fraternity, which is offering two silver loving cups as awards. The contest will begin on Monday, March 27, according to an announcement by Prof. Henry G. Roberts, who is in charge of intramurals. Entries must be made at the office of the public speaking department in building Q not later than 5 p. m., March 13. Entries after this time will not be accepted.

Two Series of Contests

There will be two series of contests, one for the fraternities and one for the sororities, with a separate question for each series. Each team, composed of two active members, or pledges, of the organizations, will make speeches ten minutes in length, and a rebuttal of five minutes. However, no student who has participated in intercollegiate debate before is eligible.

Entries should include the name, address and telephone number of the member of each organization who will be responsible for all communications concerning the contest. The questions and schedule have not yet been decided upon, but notice will be mailed to contestants March 14.

Must Win Three Times to Keep Cup

Last year Acacia won the interfraternity contest with a team composed of Ted Pierson and James Halsey. Jean Cardell and Mary Lee Watkins won the loving cup for Zeta Tau Alpha. The cups become the permanent possession of an organization that wins three times in succession.

Dr. Heyl Delivers Third Talk Friday

Dr. Paul Heyl, physicist of the Bureau of Standards, will be the third speaker of a series of lectures under the auspices of the Physics Club next Friday night in W-39 at 8:10. Dr. Heyl will discuss "The Master Key," said to be a subject dealing with the scientific method of approach to truth.

The lecture will be of a popular type, the main purpose of the series being to acquaint students not majoring in physics or science with various interesting features of science.

Dr. Heyl is well known as an interesting speaker. He is a prolific writer of popular articles on scientific subjects and is credited with having made the most accurate computation of Newton's gravitational constant. In 1922, Dr. Heyl was awarded the Magellan medal by the American Philosophical Society of Philadelphia.

Committee Refutes Chaperonage Story

In a statement Sunday night, Dean Henry Gratton Doyle said that the Student Life Committee did not, as reported by The Hatchet two weeks ago, favor stricter chaperonage rules.

However, at the joint session of the Student Life Committee and the Student Council scheduled for the near future, a discussion of the present rules will take place, Dean Doyle continued. The Student Life Committee has not yet announced its stand upon chaperonage.

Bandmen To Receive University Sweaters At Annual Dinner

Floyd Sparks and John Kangas working in cooperation with Director Louis Malkus are now completing plans for the Annual Band banquet which will be given at the Admiral on March 19. The committee plans an entertainment consisting of speeches and musical interludes. The speakers have not yet been decided upon.

At the meeting sweater awards will be made to all regular members, and special designations will be given to men having three years' service. Director Malkus will make the annual Director's Trophy award, a cup, to the member showing most improvement, having the best attendance record, and recognized as the most dependable.

The banquet will be attended by members of the band and to friends of the organization by special invitation. It is set for 8 p. m.

Information Cards Of Graduates Due

Today Last Day for Filing of Data to Be Used in Com- piling Cherry Tree

Finishing touches are being given this year's Cherry Tree this week and the annual will begin going to press. Today will be the last time that activities information cards can be turned into the publications office, the editors stated, and graduates who have not returned their cards will have no activities listed beside their names.

The subscription deadline, however, will not close immediately. Students expecting to buy a copy of this year's annual may still sign up under the installment plan of $2 down and a $2 payment upon receipt of the book, the business manager said. No extra copies of the Cherry Tree are printed for those late callers who suddenly decide to buy a copy at the last minute.

To date all indications point to an outstanding book. Last year the Cherry Tree was given third place among the country annuals of its class. This year the board of editors confidently expects to be given an All-American rating.

Some unique designs, photographs, and verses have been placed throughout the various sections of the book in keeping with the Annual's "Ship" theme, which was adopted to honor Provost William Allen Wilbur. The annual will be dedicated to Provost this year since he was officially made a member of the Class of '34 when the seniors were freshmen.

Hitlerism Subject Of W. & L. Debate

Sponsored by the Speakers' Congress, the first of the men's intercollegiate debates will take place Thursday, March 8, at 3 p. m., in W-29, when George Washington meets Washington and Lee. The question will be "Resolved: That Hitlerism is to the best interests of the German people."

Arthur Murphy and James Edwards will take the affirmative side of the question. The two teams will debate the same question, but on opposite sides when they meet at Lexington, March 19. The week following the debate, the subject will be discussed in open forum.

New Trophy Planned For Valuable Player

Gate and Key, interfraternity honorary society, is to be the donor of a new annual trophy award to be given to the most valuable varsity basketball player. The award will be made for the first time this year and the winner will be named yearly following the completion of collegiate competition.

The Gate and Key committee in charge of the award, Finis Parrish, William Weisbrod and Grandison Allen, have announced that the trophy this year is to be a silver statuette replica of a basketball player. The judges who will determine the winner for 1934 are Coach Jim Pixlee, Ted O'Leary and Jack Espey.

Personal Interviews Listed For Pre-Medical Students

Regular personal interviews will be given to pre-medical students on Thursday and Friday, Dr. Earl Baldwin McKinley, dean of the Medical School, has announced. There will be a general meeting for pre-medical students at 8 p. m. on Thursday, at which all such students must be present.

Omicron Delta Kappa Plans Initiation Tomorrow Night

Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary activities fraternity, will initiate its pledges on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Theta Upsilon Omega house, 1610 Twentieth street northwest.

Plans are being made to initiate at this time John Madigan, Max Rote, Ralph Given, George Wells, Kermit Stewart, Bernard Fagelson, Robert Hinch and Professor James E. Pixlee.

Carnival Committee Formed and Aides Named by Caminita

Carnival Organization Develop- ops With New Appointees; May 3-5 Date Set

Ludwig Caminita, Jr., chairman of the Carnival Committee, has asked the following persons, representing the various major organizations on campus, to become members of the executive committee: Edith Grosvenor, Clara Critchfield, Katherine Cutler, Gordon Sullivan, Wendell Bain, Lester Gates, Bourke Floyd, Robert Hitch, John Madigan, Joe Danzansky, James Johnson, George Wells, Newell Lusby, Walter Rhinehart, Louis Malkus, and Theodore Pierson. This committee has been formed to assist the chairman in organizing the coming Carnival, tentatively set for May 3, 4, and 5.

The wheels of the organization have begun to show life with the appointment of Sam Futrowski, assistant to the chairman; Wendell Bain, dance chairman; Ted Pierson, exhibit chairman; Otto Schoenfeldt, Hatchet publicity director; Katherine Cutler, art chairman; Henry Kleiman, boxing chairman; Sylvia Edlavitch, secretary to the chairman, and Lester Gates, Public Relations Director.

Committee Meets Tomorrow

The executive committee will hold its first meeting tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in the Carnival Office, second floor, Building M. Further organization plans will be discussed and elaborated. Tentative plans have been completed for every phase of the Carnival. Chairman Caminita has announced. Cooperation of the various organizations on campus is now being sought and much of the success of the Carnival will depend on their support. The presidents of the different groups, large and small, will from time to time be called in to advise and to give assistance. All are expected to contribute in some material way such as the operation of concessions, use of personnel for the operation of booths, and production of attractions.

Office hours of the Chairman of the Carnival are 1 to 5 p. m. daily, except Sunday. During that time he will be glad to receive anyone who has suggestions of plans that will aid in "putting the carnival across."

Merry Plans Concession Layout

In building up the arrangements for the coming event, the chairman and the executive committee are to have the full cooperation of the University administration. Charles E. Merry, assistant to the comptroller, has already dedicated much of his time to plans for the construction and layout of the concession booths, as well as invaluable ideas for the various concessions and exhibits.

Tentative ideas have been advanced to extend invitations and to entertain local high school students and those from neighboring Maryland and Virginia cities in an effort to acquaint them with George Washington University. The proposed project is being perfected by the Rousers' Club. Its success is dependent upon the ability of the campus fraternities to offer housing facilities to the visitors.

A determined effort is to be made to interest the local community of Washington in the three-day celebration of the University.

Phi Theta Xi Gets Right for Petition

Phi Theta Xi, professional engineering fraternity, has been granted permission by Theta Tau fraternity to present a formal petition for a charter. This announcement was made by Fred Coffman, grand regent of Theta Tau, at a luncheon given in his honor at the Ambassador Hotel, Saturday afternoon, March 3.

Several Theta Tau alumni, who were also guests, expressed their regard for Phi Theta Xi, and their pleasure at the announcement. Following the luncheon, Mr. Coffman discussed with local officers the requirements of Theta Tau, and the activities of Phi Theta Xi and its members.

Theta Tau is an outstanding national professional engineering fraternity, having chapters in the Middle West, California, the East and the South.

"Please, Mister, Say We're Good, Too," Is Urgent Plea Of Hatchet Reporter

By ROBERT P. HERZOG
What does a George Washington team have to do to receive a smile from a local daily? Apparently a team representing our institution has to set three worlds afire and break new records in order to even be classed as an equal of the other local universities and colleges. Here's one from a recent edition of the Washington Herald. We are laughing.

In the story which honored our institution by placing Jimmy Howell on the Herald All-District five the author went on to Class G. W. as number four in local basketball circles. The scribe had great quantities of source material at hand, but without even considering the facts of the matter he unhesitatingly named the Colonials below George

Two New Members To Sit With Panhel Council Today

Sylvia Solomon Will Represent Alpha Epsilon Phi and Beatrice Oxenburgh Phi Sigma Sigma at First Meeting Since Constitutional Amendment Granted Admittance

Phi Sigma Sigma and Alpha Epsilon Phi, national social sororities, will be officially represented for the first time on the Panhellenic Council at a meeting of that group today.

Alpha Epsilon Phi will be represented on the Council by Sylvia Solomon, while Beatrice Oxenburgh will be Phi Sigma Sigma's Panhellenic delegate.

A. E. P. Founded in 1908

Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority was founded in 1908 at Barnard College and now has a total of 30 active chapters. The George Washington chapter was installed here in 1928, its present officers being Rowena Chaffetz, president, and Therese Herman, secretary.

Phi Sigma Sigma was established in 1913, the local chapter being installed in 1924. It has a total of 17 chapters to date. The sorority's Panhellenic delegate, Beatrice Oxenburgh, is also chapter president, while Charlotte Dubin is its secretary.

The National Panhellenic Council was founded in 1904 and the local Council began its numerous activities in 1906. The last occasion of admitting another member was in 1929 when Kappa Kappa Gamma became a member.

Little change in the routine of the Council will be caused by the admission of the two new members. These sororities have for several years been included in the intersorority sport competitions and have competed for the scholarship awards.

The rotation of officers by which each sorority is in turn given the presidency of the Council will be effected but the changes will not be made until the new Panhellenic Council takes office in the spring.

The two additions will make a total of 13 sororities on the Council.

Thomas Discusses Monetary Problem

Speaker at Pi Gamma Mu Din- ner Gives Views on Pres- ent Situation

Senator Elmer Thomas, of Oklahoma, emphasized lack of money and withdrawal of credit as basic factors in the present situation of the country, in his speech "Social Aspects of the Monetary Problem," at the annual dinner of the District of Columbia province of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science fraternity, at the Admiral, Sunday, March 4. He also pointed out the responsibility of the universities of the District of Columbia to the large number of students coming from the other states of the union.

Turkish Ambassador Speaks

Achmed Bey, Turkish Ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, honorary member of Pi Gamma Mu, mentioned the importance of broad training in the social sciences in providing a firm basis for friendship between men and between nations.

Other speakers at the dinner were Dr. Joseph Gray, chancellor of American University; Bishop James Ryan, rector of Catholic University; Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of George Washington University, and the Rev. Dr. Coleman Nevils, of Georgetown University.

Donaldson Presents Speakers

Dr. John Donaldson, professor of political economy at the University, who is governor of the District of Columbia province, presented the speakers. Dean William F. Notz, lieutenant-governor of the province and a committee consisting of Dr. James J. Hayden, member of the national regional council; Dr. D. C. Kinsman, and Dr. Andrew J. Kress were in charge of the dinner.

Two Fires Reveal University Heroes

Fire! Fire! Yes, two fires! And though the usual excitement, loss of life, injury, and property damage were negligible, heroes were made.

Paul Jacobson was the man who discovered a fire at the Theta Upsilon Omega house early the other morning. He aroused the brothers, called the fire department, and saved the house. Jasper M. Berry, Jr., of the art school, discovered a fire in the floor of the fine arts building and proceeded to extinguish the blaze.

Tuesday's fire at the T. U. O. house was caused by an over-heated furnace and did damage of $100. The art school building was set afire by a smoldering butt. The damage: two floor boards.

Prof. Smith to Lead Chapel

Dr. Charles Sidney Smith, professor of classical languages, will lead the chapel services Friday, March 9, at noon in Corcoran 10.

Gov. Pollard Here For G. W. Debate With William-Mary

To Discuss NRA Policy in Trinity College Debate Friday Night

Governor John Pollard, of Virginia, presided at the first Women's Intercollegiate debate between William and Mary and George Washington which was held in Corcoran Hall last night. Maxine Farley and Mary Jane Salmon represented George Washington taking the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That the Essential Features of the NRA should be adopted as a Permanent Policy of the United States Government." Amelia Lisher and Margaret Vanot upheld the affirmative side for the visitors.

Farley and Salmon will again represent the University in the second of the Women's Intercollegiate Debate series when the team will take the negative in the same question against Trinity College at Trinity tomorrow at 8 p. m.

Governor Pollard an Alumnus
Friday, March 9, Clara Critchfield and Charlotte Dubin, both of whom were on last year's teams, will argue at Swarthmore on the affirmative side of the same question.

Governor Pollard is a graduate of George Washington University, and one of his ancestors had a part in the founding of the University in 1820. Five generations of Pollards have graduated from this University. Governor Pollard was dean of the School of Government and Citizenship at William and Mary College for many years.

The home team gave a brief exposition on the fundamental principles of the NRA and then proceeded to show that these principles were detrimental to the best interest of the people and that they should be abolished.

NRA Must Have Time to Prove Use
In reply, the William and Mary team pointed out that the NRA has been in effect only eight months and therefore has not had time to prove its benefits. It urged that the ideas of maximum hours of work and minimum wages as well as the right of collective taxation were principles that demanded government enactment.

There was no decision.
This was the first debate between George Washington and William and Mary in several years. Encouraged by the alumni of William and Mary in Washington, a series of alternate debates in Washington and Williamsburg is contemplated.

Medical Graduates Hold Annual Clinic

Many Physicians Attend Ses- sion Addressed by Drs. McCoy and Pfahler

The second annual post-graduate clinic of the School of Medicine was held on February 23 and 24 at George Washington Medical School and Hospital, and at Gallinger and Episcopal hospitals. That this annual occasion has become popular with the former students of the Medical School who wish to keep up with the advances in medical science which such clinics afford, is shown by the large number of physicians attending the clinics on both days.

Dr. McCoy Presents Paper

Dr. George W. McCoy, director of the National Institute of Health, presented "The Present Status of Serum Therapy," which was one of the outstanding features of the program at George Washington Medical School and Hospital. There were also clinics, ward rounds, and laboratory demonstrations lasting throughout the day.

Dr. William T. Davis illustrated the treatment of detachment of the Retina at Episcopal Hospital.

Banquet Concludes Clinic

Dr. George E. Pfahler of the University of Pennsylvania gave an address on "Newer Radiological Advances" at the banquet and reunion of the George Washington University Medical Society, which concluded the two-day clinic.

Psychology Fellow Resigns From Staff

Ross E. Pollock, Jr., teaching fellow in psychology, recently announced his resignation from the faculty.

Pollock will continue his courses in experimental psychology until the end of the semester. He will take a position with the Child Welfare division of the Board of Public Welfare, doing case work on destitute and delinquent children.

Suicide to Be Topic Of Radio Program

Dr. William A. White, professor of psychiatry, will speak on the George Washington radio program next Monday night, March 12, at 9:20 over station WMAL. The subject of Dr. White's address is "Suicide."

On the same program last night, Professor Anna Pearl Cooper, instructor in the English department, spoke on her visit to "The English Dramatic Festival at Malvern."

Colonial Freshmen Await A. A. U. Game

Expected to Play Early Next Week; Coach Logan Con- sidered Chances Good

At a late hour last night The Hatchet learned from reliable sources that the Colonial Freshmen would probably not play in the A. A. U. Tourney until next week. Although the schedules are not announced until two days before the date of competition it became evident last night that program conflicts would keep the yearlings off the floor until the early part of next week. Information obtained earlier in the day indicated that the Frosh would meet a fraternal organization on Saturday.

Coach Logan in commenting on his team's chances in the annual tournament said, "I believe they have better than an even chance. They will enter the contest with much the same lineup that they have used throughout the season."

Whitely, Goldfaden, Berg, Canifax and Yarbrough will probably start the game for the Logan-ites. Russell, Ferrell, Forst, and Lee will undoubtedly see action during the course of the meet in reserve roles.

Spelman Wins Prize In Blossom Contest

Mary V. Spelman, A.D. Pi representative in the annual Cherry Blossom sale conducted last week by the Masonic Club, has been declared the winner of the $5 prize awarded to the girl collecting the most money. Cherie Seaman, Pi Beta Phi, ran Miss Spelman a close second.

A member of each sorority was entered in the contest.

The proceeds of the sale will be given to the Masonic endowment fund of the School of Government. The sale is an annual affair conducted by the Masonic clubs throughout the country.

Speakers' Congress Hear Harris Speak

"American armament makers are whipping up a battleship-building race with Japan which will smash any future arms conference," said Paul Harris, Jr., of the National Council for the Prevention of War, at the Wednesday meeting of the Speakers' Congress during his speech on "Profits in Preparedness."

Mr. Harris pointed out that armament and armament manufacturers make from 100 to 1,000 per cent profit. He said that arms manufacturers of one country do not hesitate to sell weapons to the enemy to be used against that country's own soldiers. In the Dardanelles campaign, Turkish troops mowed down the English with machine guns made by Vickers of England. Today Curtiss-Wright is selling military airplanes to Japan.

Senior Council Meets at Lambie House Tomorrow

Joseph Danzansky, president of the Senior Council, has called a meeting of that body for tomorrow night in Lambie House at 8 p. m. It is understood that the Council will consider matters of importance to the Senior Class, especially relating to Class Night, and the Senior Ball.

Delphi Plans Initiation Ceremony Wednesday

Delphi, honorary social sorority, will initiate its pledges at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Alpha Delta Pi rooms. Following the initiation, the active members will attend an installation dinner dance in honor of the new members at the Hay Adams House at 9 p. m.

The women to be initiated are Edith Miah, Ruth McNary, Larry Worrall and Janet Stals.

An Interfraternity "Sing"

ONE of the most worthwhile and entertaining traditions of many universities is an annual interfraternity "Sing," an idea which has never been tried at George Washington—at least within the memories of most of us.

Each fraternity is represented by a group of 20 or 30 men, who sing their own fraternity song, the college song, and one of the usual old favorites. The singing is often done out-of-doors, is in the form of a contest, and is part of "spring day," "moving-up day," or "class day." In a great many colleges and universities it is looked forward to as one of the most attractive social events of the year.

It takes little imagination to see the possibilities in such an idea if adopted by George Washington fraternities. It would tend to assist in enlarging campus tradition, which admittedly plays an important part in our interest in a university; it would interest men of the University in a worthwhile fine art—singing; the fraternities would profit by association with one another in a common activity which by its very nature would make for congeniality, and finally a large group of people would have a good time at practically no expense.

This idea, as contrasted with many others which have been offered recently for campus approval, is an especially good one in that there seems to be no discouraging matter of money connected with it. There will be no underwriting required, no tickets to sell, and so far as we can see no possibility of a deficit after it is all over.

Of course it is possible that the men can't sing but no one would expect much the first year. In fact, Dr. Robert H. Harmon, director of the glee clubs, offers the suggestion that each fraternity be represented by only a quartette the first year to make it a little easier.

Dr. Harmon, who was conferred with by The Hatchet, believes the idea "splendid" and states that there is time enough this spring to prepare for the contest.

Of course this suggestion may be taken lightly, it is not necessary to the preservation of the very life of the fraternities but it seems like one of the things the Interfraternity Council should be quick to sponsor.
We believe the Council should take up this matter at its next meeting and appoint a committee to add the constructive details.

Second the Motion

(Wisconsin Daily Cardinal)

WHILE other educational institutions in the country may hail with unbounded enthusiasm the decision of the Federal Government to offer part time jobs to needy students on condition that the school they attend waive their fees, the fact that Wisconsin will not be able to take advantage of the new plan because of a statutory restriction is not as unfortunate as it would seem at all.

Increase in enrollment without a subsequent increase in revenue from fees would mean a decrease in the facilities that can be offered to the students but this would not be the greatest evil that might result from the government's plan. The coming of the depression years has deflated the value of a college degree considerably. America's old ideal of "an education for all" may have given the lower classes greater opportunities for advancement, but it has also developed an educational system that of necessity must consider mass production its mark of success. An excess of second rate men in our colleges has forced the adoption of teaching methods that have prevented the real students from getting a real education.

With all due sympathy to the poor student whose talents exceeded his money, we are inclined to doubt the value of a college education obtained while the student's main interest is the earning of room and board. Too often the student ruins his health, obtains little more than a sheepskin diploma for his efforts, and then finds that this same diploma is of little use in further advancing him in the world.

OUT IN THE WORLD

By GEORGE Y. JARVIS

WHO will make the money when the brass bands play and we fellows march off to war?

Until lately, we paid little attention when radicals soap-boxed the "munitions trust" and the hand it played in the brewing of wars. Now magazines like "Fortune" are digging up and printing things like this:

Hitler was helped into the saddle by money from Fritz Thyssen and a huge French-controlled armament ring whose factories in a dozen countries are pouring forth the materials of war. Result: Much bigger sales of munitions to the scared governments of France, Poland, and so on.

Since the days of Napoleon, a quiet but powerful family named de Wendel in France, and whose German branches are called von Wen-del, have been selling armaments to both sides. They control hundreds of smaller armament firms, as well as newspapers, banks, and key posts in governments. Whoever loses, they win.

It's too bad that war seldom kills off the right people.

There's hope for real light on the armament makers and their works of darkness in our own country. An investigation, you know, is getting underway on Capitol Hill.

Of course you have seen the horrible war pictures running in the Sunday papers. Would some power the gift would give us to put a set into the hands of every brown-shirt, blackshirt, and fermenting "patriot"
in Europe and Asia, and America.

JUST BETWEEN US--

WHAT was probably the most dramatic scene of Cue and Cur-last dress rehearsal. Tuesday night Adele Gusack, feminine star of the her voice completely. The thespians were panic-stricken momentarily.

There was no one to take Gusack's

needn't have worried them greatly, for

portrayed La Gus-

duction Manager Lusby sounded "on stage."

Gusack, as you know, recovered her voice and gave an admirable performance. But the real thrill was for those chosen few who saw Miss Brown in that Wednesday special matinee. Some thirty spectators were present—from the prompter and thespians to the business manager and make-up girls. And they stayed through the entire performance, though they knew the lines "cold."

As one Cue-curtainer said "Boy, Constance Conner Brown rocks thirty points in our opinion. Any Director who is willing to join a college club just to see their show go on is a sport of sports. You know she spent a couple of years with Rinehart in Berlin. Yes, sir, my vote for Brown."

Nor was this flattery. It was the sincere admiration of a young man who realized that many another professional would never have done such a thing for fear of upsetting his professional dignity.

It seems a shame to waste all those beautiful sketches and paintings in the Fine Art School. Wasted so far as the general student body is concerned. Last week I entered the building for the first time in some six months and was fortunate in having a student there show me around.

We spend some good publicity attracting attention to the various art collections in town when we have a very satisfactory one right here on campus. Some of those works were done abroad by recognized painters, I am given to understand.
By curious coincidence it happens that only a few days ago the Librarians discovered some drawings that were made a good many years ago. They had been carefully wrapped up, stored away and then apparently forgotten. Now the artists are searching with more care with the hope of finding others.

The second floor attracts my interest most because of a series of water colors hanging in the corner.
Though I know nothing about art,
I have always remained cold before water colors. But these are the exception. They are as full of life as I have ever seen.

One showing a building entrance with marble columns is amazingly like a colored photograph. One could almost touch the marble, it seems so real.

From now on I'm making more calls at that Fine Arts building, if not to see students, at least for a visit to the gallery.

Cue-Curtain Offers Another Hit

Thespians Give Fast-Moving Comedy, Scoring Season's
Second S. R. O. Triumph

By Austin Cunningham

"STANDING-room only."

That's what the sign on the Cue and Curtain box office said last Friday night when G. W.'s first string dramatic club went through its paces for the benefit of those attending. Thursday night's performance was nearly a sell-out as well.
And no wonder, because for the second time this season the club offered a workmanlike and highly exciting presentation of a good comedy, this time, Gertrude Tonkonogy's
"Three-Cornered Moon." Oh, it wasn't perfect, not by any means, but it was excellent entertainment and the audience seemed satisfied, as, indeed, it should have been.

Due to the gentle hints contained in the thunder of publicity running through the last several Hatchets, the audience having some vague conception of just what the Rimplegars were like, came expecting anything, and saw it. A more hysterical, hectic, epileptic, and apoplectic collection of people has never before been assembled under one roof.

To begin at the beginning and, incidentally, to get the worst over with, the first act dragged. Yes, in spite of all the shouting, gesticulating, and running up and down stairs, it somehow didn't quite click.
Perhaps it was the play, and then again, perhaps it was Cue and Curtain.

The last two acts, however, more than made up for the slow beginning. Action moved at a rapid, if uneven gait. The company certainly got into the spirit of the thing, even sacrificing some of the clever lines to the more important object of keeping the audience on edge.

And now for the individual efforts.

Adele Gusack had the star role, and rightfully so, for she was splendid. The important part of Elisabeth Rimplegar dominates the whole action and any weakness in this key position would have spoiled everything. Why, she even cried well!

Other outstanding performances were presented by Joe Danzansky, as usual a tower of strength, and Edgar Saugstad who is the youngest of the insane brothers was given the best lines and made most of them.

And then, Ruth Molyneux, as the brainless mother, and Karl Gay as the brainy doctor, both offered excellent if very different characterizations.

In minor parts, Elizabeth Orth made the most of Jenny, the maid, with a Czechoslovakian accent; Ann Beach and Leonard Stevens did very well by their characters. Individually, there really was no apparent weakness in the whole performance.

For the second time this year
Constance Conner Brown has presented a facile and realistic comedy, showing careful training in every line. It's the mechanical perfection of it all that astonishes me.
There were none of the missed lines or false moves that seem to crop up so inevitably in amateur dramatics.
The much-heralded homemade setting provided a fitting and natural background to all these goings-on,
and was a credit to the labors of Newell Lusby and Karl Gay, its creators.

Yes, to state the converse of the line in the play, the audience seemed to like "hysterical people."

"I'd like to borrow some of those fellows; we could use them," said Dr. Robert Howe Harmon, director of the University Glee Clubs, after listening to the very delightful concert given by the Emory University Glee Club of Atlanta, Ga., at the Mayflower last Wednesday night. George Washingtonians enjoying the music, and the dance afterwards were Cecil Johns, Virginia Eastable, Otto Schoenfelder, "Tubby" O'Beary, Jack Stanley, Frances Harlan, Joe Coperly, and Paul and Victor Ballard.

Imagine the surprise of Dr. Donald Stubbs, teacher of psychology, who, upon arriving late for his 7 o'clock class one night last week saw an empty room with the following words on the blackboard: "Sorry, Doc, we have went."

After the banquet and at the dance, Harriet Atwell in the most stunning black velvet gown trimmed in silver line with a matching cap—all this at the joint initiation celebration of Gamma Eta Zeta and Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternities, at the Madrilon last Wednesday eve.

Much credit is due Harold Stepler, Acacia, who was selected as the best entertainer broadcasting over the WOL open radio forum for the month of February. Many congratulations on the grand voice!

"Surprise!" greeted Frances Walsky last Wednesday night at the Russian Troika as 22 couples appeared from out of nowhere, and much to Frances' astonishment, helped celebrate her birthday.

Women's Bowling Ends This Week

The final games of the women's intramural bowling tournament will be played off this week, deciding the winners of each league and the winner of the tournament. The schedule is as follows: Today, Phi Sigma Sigma vs. Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Mu vs. the Colonial Campus Club; Wednesday, Zeta Tau Alpha vs. Phi Delta, Delta Zeta vs. Kappa Delta, Pi Beta Phi vs. Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Sigma Sigma vs. Phi Mu.

Compete Thursday for Title

These games will decide the winners of each of the three leagues. These winners will compete Thursday for the championship.

In last week's games, Phi Delta defeated Alpha Delta Pi, and Pi Beta Phi won over Sigma Kappa. Alpha Delta Theta and Sigma Kappa won games by defaults.

Prom Committee Changes Decision

Annual Interfraternity Affair to Feature Customary Grand March

Reversing its previous decision, the Interfraternity Council has decided that the Prom of March 16 will feature the customary grand march. This, combined with the fact that Duke Morris and his popular college orchestra from Penn State will set the tempo, promises to make this affair an outstanding one of the season.

"The fraternities are cooperating in the ticket sale beyond our greatest expectations," stated Frank Bastable, chairman of the Prom, when questioned late last night. This practically clinches the success of the dance, which will be a program affair.

The Willard Hotel will be the scene of this gay event, whose supporting features include the annual Gate and Key tapping service, the presentation of athletic and scholarship cups, and an elaborate floor show.

Engineers' Council Holds Meeting

The Engineers' Council will meet Tuesday, March 13, at 7 p. m., for the purpose of interesting students in the annual Engineers' banquet and assigning the various committees on arrangements, according to James L. Johnson, president of the Engineers' Council.

May Ashton Addresses Art Club

May Ashton will address the regular meeting of the Art Appreciation Club on murals, art today, and CWA work, on Friday at eight p. m., in Lambie House. The club invites all University students interest in art to be present.

Frats, Sororities Initiate Pledges

Ceremonies Continue Into Middle of Semester; Festivities Follow

Far into the middle of the semester, initiation of neophytes into fraternities and sororities continues, eight groups having held formal ceremonies last week. Almost without exception, festivities concluded the rites.

Zeta Tau Alpha formally initiated Dorothy Buck, Lolita Goss, and Estelle Moore, Sunday, February 25. The ceremony was followed by a tea in honor of the new initiates, held at the home of Jeanne Gorsline.

Kappa Kappa Gamma held initiation Saturday, March 3. The newly initiated members are Margaret Baer, Ruth Brewer, Catherine Bright, Beulah Koster, Mary Maxon, Mary Louise Parks, and Dorothy Roudabush. A banquet at the Burlington concluded the rites.

Phi Mu initiated the following girls Wednesday, February 28: Helen Black, Kitty Black, Isabella Counselman, Emily Ellis, Sally Watson, and Helen Willkie.

Phi Sigma Sigma announces the initiation of Nileen Cooper, Minnie Feld, Ann Goldberg, Mildred Hayes, Constance Levinson, and Frances Walsky February 24, at The Carlton. A banquet and dance completed the evening.

Delta Pi chapter of Sigma Nu recently held formal initiation for the following men: Lowell H. Ewing, John E. Foster, Arvel Koehler, Peter Kaldes, Kenneth Truckenmiller, Frank Chapin, Charles S. Hess, and Steven S. Porter. Delta Tau Delta recently initiated Howard Collins, George Hudson, and Roger Lloyd.

Sigma Phi Epsilon announces the initiation of James Robbins, Charles Alford, Al Barnett, Robert Mickey, Henry Ruley, Charles O'Connell, and Carleton Alm.

Kappa Delta announces the pledging of Mary Elizabeth Overton and Lee Roark Sunday, March 4. Following the ceremony a buffet supper was held.

Kappa Alpha has recently pledged Phil Lightfoot and Bill Griffin.

Sigma Nu announces the pledging of Percival Brown and Art Thompson.

Sigma Phi Epsilon has placed a pledge pin on Alford Heckel.

Delta Zeta Held Initiation

Delta Zeta announces the formal initiation of the following on Sunday, March 4: Jean Baldwin, Kathryn Caylor, Jean Creech, Ellen Maki, Eleanor Livingston, and Sara McGrann.

The method of preparing Granger Tobacco for pipe smoking is not like any other method now in use.

So far as we know, it is the best way ever found of taking out of tobaccos the oils that don't smoke right or taste right in a pipe. Granger owes its extra fragrance and mildness to Wellman's Method. The way Granger Tobacco is cut—in big flakes—helps it to smoke cool and last longer. Try it.

Senior Basketeers Defeat Freshmen In Last Quarter

Rally Saves Game; Juniors Beat Sophomores 51-10 in Easy Victory

Taking the lead from the beginning of the game, the freshmen threatened a second upset Friday night in the women's interclass basketball tournament, but a rally by the seniors in the last quarter won them the game by the slight margin of 12-11. In their game with the juniors the week before, the freshmen won an unexpected victory, taking the game with the score 30-27.

Following the freshmen-senior game, the juniors swamped the sophomores 51-10 in an easy game, for their second loss of the season, the seniors having already defeated the sophomores 25-15.

The high point scorer of the evening was Jane Harrison, junior, with 23 points, and the second highest was Frances Thompson, junior, with 18 points. This ties these two players as high scorers so far in the tournament, with 32 points each. The high point scorer in the freshmen-senior game was Camille Jacobs, freshman, who scored the 11 points made by her team.

Seniors Should Repeat
The senior team, which has held the championship for the past two years, has won both its games so far this year, and stands a chance of winning the championship again this year if it defeats the juniors tomorrow night. The freshmen will play the sophomores at the same time. The games will be played in the University gymnasium at 7:30 p. m.

After these games, the odd and even teams will be chosen from team members of classes graduating in odd and even years. These two teams will battle Thursday, March 15.

Powers Attends Conferences

At the National Education Association conference held last week in Cleveland, George Washington University was represented by Dr. J. Phi Pi Hears Finnish Leader

Nina Strandberg Addresses Foreign Service Sorority On Modern Finland

Miss Nina Strandberg, leader of women's activities in Finland and representative of the Finnish foreign office, was the guest speaker at a meeting of Phi Pi Epsilon, foreign service sorority, held last Saturday evening at the club rooms of the American Association of University Women. The meeting was held in honor of the members of Eta Chapter of Delta Phi Epsilon, foreign service fraternity.

Motion Pictures Shown
Present-day Finland served as the topic of her talk. She discussed political, economic, social, and educational features of her country, and added to the interest of her topics by showing four reels of motion pictures which gave those present a vivid picture of Finland.

Miss Strandberg has been in the service of her country since 1931, has served at the Finnish legation in Madrid, and was vice consul at New York City for two months last fall.

Women Gunners Complete Match

Coed Rifle Team Scores 2,951 in National Intercollegiate Competition

With two scores of 593, two points above last year's highest score, the women's rifle team has completed its shooting for the national intercollegiate rifle match. The five high total scores, obtained by shooting three stages of two targets each, were as follows: Maxine Farley, 593; Dorothy Catling, 593; Mary Louise Yauch, 589; Naomi Myers, 588; and Jean Christie, 588. This gives a total score of 2,951, 10 points better than last year's score, which took fourth place in the tournament.

Mary Yauch High
Saturday, the varsity shot telegraphic matches with the Carnegie Institute of Technology and the University of Indiana. In these matches, the highest total score of the year, 496, was made by Mary Louise Yauch, who shot a "possible." A match will be shot this week with Missouri University.

Colonial Tankmen Enter Eastern Championships Saturday

(Sports Editor)

George Washington will enter six men in the Eastern Collegiate swimming championships to be held at the University of Delaware, Newark, Del., Saturday afternoon and evening. Coach Al Lyman stated yesterday, this is the first time G. W. has entered the Eastern meet and Lyman's men will compete against the outstanding swimmers in the Eastern section.

Included among the 15 teams expected to compete are Rutgers, Pittsburgh, Lafayette, Navy, Brown, Lehigh, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Swarthmore and possibly Yale and Princeton. Navy, Rutgers and Pennsylvania have compiled the best records and are rated as the favorites by swimming followers. Penn sprang a surprise Saturday by decisively defeating the strong Columbia outfit, 44-27, and thus forced its way into the top rung of contenders in Saturday's competition.

Rote Heads Entrants

The men entered by George Washington are Capt. Max Rote, Dyer, Ghormley, Johnnie Hain, Henry Vedder, Carl Vartia, and Jack Bonner. Rote will compete in the 50-yard and 100-yard free style events, Ghormley in the breast-stroke and diving, Hain in the backstroke, Vedder in the 50 and 100-yard free style, Vartia in the 440-yard free style, and Bonner in the diving.

In addition the Buff and Blue relay team, composed of Rote, Ghormley, Vedder, and Vartia, will swim in the 200-yard relay event. The 300-yard medley relay, an event not included in the Colonials' list, is one of the features of the meet, and Lyman has been drilling a new relay team to enter this competition. This team consists of Rote in the 100-yard free style, Ghormley in the breast-stroke and Hain in the back-stroke.

According to Lyman, the team's best chances for victory are in the dash

Kleiman Issues Call For Fight AspirantsGoldstein to Meet Squared Circle Candidates on Wednesday Evenings

"We are short of welterweights and middleweights," quoting Coach Kleiman of Squared Circle. Men interested in the pugilistic branch of athletic activity are urged to report at once for early practices. The club has secured the services of Bobby Goldstein, former U. of Virginia luminary, and training is proceeding at a rapid rate. Goldstein meets the group every Wednesday night in the gym at 7 o'clock. Kleiman holds regular instructions on Saturdays.

Outstanding among the men working out in the early practices are Lamar Brown, Charles Mann, Jack Rhodes, Bill Hornaday, Allen Stewart, Kermit Stewart, Sidney Kolker, and Vic Prather. The latter three have been recruited from the football squad. Stewart, who was prominent in the club's activities last year, weighs in at 175 pounds and fights in the light-heavyweight class. Kolker is forced into the heavyweight class by virtue of his 208 pounds of brawn. Prather, too, is a 200-pounder.

Robert Herzog, recently appointed manager of the Squared Circle, has issued an urgent call for welterweights and middleweights. Men interested should report at once to the athletic office, or they may meet the class tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

Varsity Battery Candidates
Report to Morris Thursday

Coach Morris has issued a call for battery candidates for this year's varsity nine to report Thursday, March 9, at 8 p. m. Indoor practice will continue until weather permits the men to train on the park diamonds. Aspiring candidates should come equipped with gym suits, tennis shoes, and gloves for preliminary indoor workouts. Infield and outfield candidates will be called in the near future.

Spring Grid Work Depends On Weather, Field Conditions

"Spring football practice as soon as the weather and ground conditions permit," was the recent announcement of the athletic department. The coaching staff has issued a call for candidates and as soon as playing fields become available work will begin.

Last year because of the inclement weather nearly the entire spring training period was spent in developing fundamentals of blocking and other essentials of play in the gymnasium. The use of the ball park being impossible and the use of Tidal Basin field being doubtful the coaches are considering the use of the Friends' School field on Wisconsin avenue.

League leadership in interfraternity bowling was unchanged over the week, but positions were materially strengthened or weakened as the case may be. T. U. O. clung tenaciously to its margin in League B, but experienced a one-game drop to S. X. and is only a peg ahead of the fast-stepping Delts. P. S. K. and Acacia continued their two-team dog fight by eliminating all others from consideration in sweeping their matches from K. A. and K. S., respectively.

Delts Take 3 From S. A. E.

Delta Tau Delta continued its return to form after a disastrous start and chalked up its seventh consecutive game and jumped up into second place, just a game below the leaders. His 346 set was high for D. T. D., and greatly aided in sending S. A. E. out of the running. S. N., rolling dimes, had its championship hopes dashed by a steady S. M. S. crew which copied two of the three and tied for third place in the standings. Hoffman led the winners with a 326 set. A real scare was given T. U. O. by S. X. when three pins was the difference between a game margin in the first set-to, and a defeat in the third game prevented

Lafayette Swimmers Sink Colonials 36-23

Buff and Blue Mermen Win Four First Places; Three Records Set

In a meet which featured three new pool records, Lafayette swimmers defeated the Colonial tankmen by the count of 36-23 in the Ambassador Pool Wednesday. Competition was close all the way with G. W. taking four first places to Lafayette's three, but the latter finished strong in the last two positions to give them the edge.

This meet marked the second defeat for Coach Lyman's team this season, losing to Johns-Hopkins University in a previous match.

Rote Wins Dash

Records were shattered in the 100-yd. dash by Rote, G. W. ace and captain, covering the distance in 53.8; 200-yd. breast-stroke by Ghormley of G. W. who was clocked at 2:40.8; and in the 440-yd. swim by Quincy of Lafayette, who lowered the time to 5:45.8.

Bowman, Leopard mainstay and intercollegiate backstroke champion, defeated Hain of G. W. by the margin of four feet in the backstroke event. Summary:

200-yd. Relay—Won by Lafayette (Bowman, Papp, Hensler, and Stofflet). Time: 1:37.1.

Fancy Diving—Won by Ghormley (G. W.), 74.8; second, Arnold (L.); 71.2; third, Borrowman (L.).

50-yd. Dash—Won by Rote (G. W.); second, Stofflet (L.); third, Vedder (G. W.). Time: 24.0.

150-yd. Backstroke—Won by Bowman (L.); second, Emmett (L.); third, Hain (G. W.). Time: 1:56.2.

440-yd. Swim—Won by Quincy (L.); second, Bowman (L.); third, Vartic (G. W.). Time: 5:45.8. New pool record.

200-yd. Breast-stroke—Won by Ghormley (G. W.); second, Light (L.); third, Asch (L.). Time: 2:40.8. (New pool record.)

100-yd. Dash—Won by Rote (G. W.); second, Stofflet (L.); third, Hensler (L.). Time: 53.8. (New pool record.)

Bolivian Minister to Speak At Spanish Club Meeting

Senor Enriquez Finot, minister from Bolivia, will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Spanish Club in W-27 Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. His discussion, to be delivered in Spanish, will deal with "The Controversy of Bolivia and Paraguay over the Gran Chaco Territory."

The club will hold an informal dance in Lambie House at 8 p. m. Friday. Club members will provide entertainment with skits and songs. The admission price is 25 cents.

Pharmacists Meet Blue Ridge

The Pharmacy School basketball team meets the Blue Ridge College five here Friday night at 8 p. m. In their last game, Blue Ridge won 25-20. The game listed for Friday was postponed from February 23.

Jimmy Howell Tops Colonial Basketeers In Season Scoring

Jimmy Howell, the flashy little forward that led G. W. to victories in 11 of their 15 basketball tilts, maintained an average of 12 points per game, according to official statistics released recently by the athletic department. Participating in all of the 15 contests, Howell garnered a total of 180 points. In 60 attempted foul shots he made 42 baskets.

Sammy Stein, playing in only four contests, amassed 39 points for an average of 9.75. Bill Noonan playing in all of the 15 games, averaged 8.13 points per game, with a total of 122 points. In 43 free shots attempted Noonan scored 24 points.

Following Howell and Noonan in the scoring were: Leemans, with an average of 5.88; Smith, with an average of 4.2; Shirley, with 3; and Ruley, with an average of 2.61.

events, in which Rote is the chief hope, in the breast-stroke, where Ghormley is outstanding, and in the 300-yard medley relay. Despite the fact that the latter is a new event for the team to compete in, Lyman has high hopes of a place for his entry.

Marks Compare Favorably

Comparisons of the time recorded by Rote and Ghormley with those of Eastern stars shows that G. W. supporters have good reason to expect some success in the events entered by these two mainstays. Both have been in fine form in recent meets and should be at their best Saturday. In the Lafayette match last week, which G. W. lost, both men set pool records for the Ambassador Hotel pool and their times were exceptionally fast.

Considerable interest has been manifested locally in the meeting between Rote and Thompson of the Naval Academy in the 50-yard free style. The latter is the Eastern champion in this event and local authorities look for a nip and tuck race. Rote is undefeated in the dash events in intercollegiate competition.

Swimmers Engage Delaware Tonight

Season's Record in Balance as Lyman-Coached Team Enters Last Meet

Coach Lyman's naturs entertain the strong Delaware squad at the Ambassador Pool at 7:30 p. m. in their closing effort of the season. In meeting Delaware, more than winning the meet is at stake. A win will give the team four out of six meets, defeat will lower their season's record to an even break. However, win or lose, the season will show considerable advance over the disastrous "33" campaign in which a lone win was obtained.

Delaware always turns out a strong team and this year has proved no exception, several collegiate competitors having fallen before them. Among them was Lehigh who was defeated by practically the same margin that G. W. ran up in their meet with the Pennsylvanians. The fine Lafayette squad holds decisions over both G. W. and Delaware, the latter absorbing a worse defeat than the Colonials. All of which seems to make an interesting meet between two evenly matched teams a surety tonight, with G. W. holding a slight edge.

Acacia, Phi Sig Continue Tie

Acacia had little trouble in taking three games from Kappa Sig, chalked up 1,540 pins. Rice with 327 and Haley's 324 again led the Acacians. Phi Sig kept pace with Acacia by taking three games from K. A. and though rolling below form encountered little trouble. A 326 set by Plant was high for the match.

S. P. E. climbed out of its last place tie with T. D. X. by defeating the latter in all three games. Sullivan was high with a 303 set.

High for the evening were: High game, 134, Dryer, T. U. O.; high set, 346, Hix, D. T. D.; high team game, 518, Acacia; high team set, 1,540, Acacia.

New Dietetic Courses Opened for Nurses

G. W. Is First University to Offer Work of Collegiate Rank for Navy Nurses

For the first time in any university in the country, work of collegiate rank for navy nurses is being offered in the home economics department here under Dr. Helen Clark.

The three months' course in dietetics was opened Thursday, March 1, to 10 nurses from naval stations all over the United States. Thirteen hours of university credit will be given for classes in food principles, food sanitation, food preparation, institutional management, and diet therapy. A feature of the course will be the visiting and inspecting of the hospitals of the city.

Dr. Clark, who came to George Washington University to instruct this group, is a graduate of Colorado State Agricultural College and Ohio State University. She received her doctor's degree at Columbia University.

On completion of their training here, these nurses will serve on various naval hospitals and ships.

Walter Hendricks Presents Paper on Variant Analysis

Walter Hendricks will present a paper entitled "Analysis of Variants" at the regular bimonthly meeting of the Mathematics Club which will be held tonight at 8 p. m. in W-27.

At the last meeting of the club Marian Fowler was elected secretary-treasurer to succeed Virginia McDonnell.

FOR SOMETHING to "satisfy" you, means that it pleases you—that it's what you want. This applies to cigarettes or anything.

A cigarette has to taste right—not raw or too sweet. For a cigarette to "satisfy" it has to be mild—not strong, not harsh.

You can prove for yourself whether a cigarette is milder—whether a cigarette tastes better.

And it's because smokers can prove these things about Chesterfield that so many men and women say they satisfy. Try them.
